There was discussion that these points should be covered by the Built Environment standards; however, it was suggested that including first voice in designing public spaces should be considered until such time as the standards are finalized.

4. Other Business

a. Accessibility Act Review – Feedback

Rosalind Penfound introduced Lisa Jacobs, Accessibility Directorate. Lisa gave a presentation and explained to the Board that within four years after the coming into force of the Act, and at least every five years thereafter, the Governor in Council shall appoint a person to undertake a comprehensive review of the effectiveness of the Act and the accessibility standards and report on the person's findings to the Minister. The Directorate is developing a recommended approach for the review for submission to the Minister by the end of February. We also plan to have a reviewer selected by the end of May. The process will require various Government approvals, including a submission to Cabinet and this will take time over the summer. Based on our current estimations, we fully expect to have a reviewer appointed by Sept. 18. The purpose of the discussion with the Board was to seek feedback on the core qualifications and experience that a reviewer should have, including lived experience as a person with a disability, who is Deaf, and/or who is neurodivergent; experience living in Nova Scotia; and experience in management/public service. The Board was strongly in favour of the reviewer being someone who is a person with a disability, who is Deaf, and/or who is neurodivergent and has lived experience as such. Many Board members expressed the need for the reviewer to have experience living in Nova Scotia, and there was some discussion on a panel approach.
